Dealers, shopkeepers, or shop-assistants, as distinct from makers, producers, or repairers.—All such persons are to be so described as to leave no doubt whether they are dealers or makers. In many cases "tailors," "bootmakers," "hatters," "watchmakers," "jewellers," "chemists," &c., and their assistants are not makers or producers, but are rather dealers or merchants; in such cases the word "dealer," "shopkeeper," or "shop-assistant," is to be added to the occupational name. A person who both makes and deals is to be described as "maker" if chiefly maker, or "dealer" if chiefly dealer.

Vague or indefinite terms must not be used alone—such, for example, as "apprentice," "assistant," "cavasser," "clerk," "collector," "contractor," "foreman," "inspector," "labourer," "machinist," "manager," "manufacturer," "mechanic," "mill-hand," "superintendent"—the name of the trade or industry must be inserted against 7 (b).

Engineers to state whether civil, mechanical, mining, electrical, marine, &c., also the nature of work on which engaged. Surveyors to state whether land, mining, or marine, &c.

Miners are to specify the nature of the mineral on which they work, and in respect of metallic ores to add whether lode or alluvial. A miner working for another should return himself as "gold-miner," &c., not labourer.

SOLDIERS IN CAMP.—In answer to question 3 (Relation to head of household or establishment) a soldier in a military camp should enter "Soldier" or "Member of Expeditionary Force," and in question 7 should give the profession or occupation followed by him prior to joining the Expeditionary Force.
